The ‘Spreewald’ - a unique natural and cultural landscape - was declared as a biosphere reserve in 1990 and achieve UNESCO status in 1991. This meadowy countryside (48.400 ha) is traversed by a net of streams (1.575 km of waterways), fields, grassland and wood. In total, 260 km of those streams are accessible and quite worth a tour by punt or boat. On a punt one can be supernaturally inspired and will be a hundred years past. This punt tour round trips, and led to places like Lehde, Leipe, the restaurant ‘Wot’schofska’ as well as into the heart of the ‘Spreewald’, the High Forest.
